In the fall, start a conversation with the student using the General RIT and Projected RIT and determine where the student is in relation to the target areas. You can focus on one goal area in the student's action plan, particularly if you plan to emphasize instruction in that goal area. It can be a reference to help celebrate achievements at the end of the school year. RIT RIT designed from the first to the second test event when a test event is in the initial period. The normalized data are used to calculate the projected IR from the growth test event in the initial period of the growth comparison period, projected for the final end of the growth comparison period. My Goal A place to record individual student goals that may be above or below typical growth. RIT Growth The growth of the student's RIT point from beginning to end. If the final tests have not yet been completed, an asterisk will be displayed. Global RIT Score The student's RIT score for each term in which the student has a comparison test event on the subject, regardless of the test the student has taken. For example, suppose a student took a math test 2-5 in the fall and a math test 6+ in the winter and spring. In this case, the spreadsheet a general RIT score for each of the three terms. Goal Performance Shows the RIT score interval for each instruction Area (performance AObjective AA Color * indicate relative performance overall student score. Green indicates that The median of the target score range is more than 3 RIT points above the overall RIT score. In the sample above, Basic Skills are green because 224 (median 219-229) is 8 points above 216 (overall score). Yellow indicates more than 3 RIT points below the RIT General Score. In the sample above, Literature is yellow because 209 (median between 205-213) is 5 below 216 (overall score). White or grey indicates an RIT interval within 3 RIT points of the overall RIT. Note: Only test events that are consistent with the last test performed in the growth comparison period are displayed. For example, suppose a student took a math test 2-5 in the fall and then a math test 6+ in the winter and spring. Only the scores of the Math 6+ tests in winter and spring would appear in the report, because the goals were different in the fall period and are not comparable. If an asterisk appears (* or *4 The student may have answered many items incorrectly or very few items may have been available in the RIT range evaluated. Range Lexile This range appears when the student takes a reading test. You can use it with online resources to properly identify books, journals and other challenging reading materials for each student.
